

Part 1 & 2 from State Chamber of Oklahoma "Answering your HR/Labor questions related to COVID-19"

Part 1

There are a lot of unknowns about how the coronavirus pandemic impacts HR policies and labor law. We want to help you navigate these important questions to ensure your business is up-to-date with the latest information. To help answer some questions and provide guidance, the State Chamber of Oklahoma will host a webinar on these issues featuring the State Chamber's Vice-Chair of HR/Labor Law and employment attorney, Courtney Warmington with Fuller, Bickford & Tubb, PLLC.

You can find the video of the webinar by clicking here. You can also find a copy of the presenter handout on the Families First Coronavirus Response Act by clicking here.

Part 2

The State Chamber of Oklahoma recorded a second video answering HR/Labor Law questions with our Vice Chair of the HR and Labor Law Committee: Courtney Warmington, an employment law attorney with the firm Fuller, Tubb and Bickford in Oklahoma City.

You can click here to watch part 2 of "Answering your HR/Labor Law questions regarding COVID-19."